

Master (M1, M2) International Relations

GEOPOLITICS, COMPLIANCE AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS

The Master's degree in Geopolitics is a highlevel international training program. Designed for students of all nationalities and delivered exclusively in English, it meets the growing needs of the industrial, banking and insurance sectors, which are shaken by geopolitical uncertainties, by preparing students for three careers: lobbying within international institutions, compliance in the banking sector and finally business intelligence.

Specific advantages:

PROFESSIONNALIZATION

Faculty composed of practitioners in public affairs, compliance and business intelligence

PERSONAL TUTORSHIP

Methodological support for optimizing communication in business.

TRAINING IN ENGLISH

Training delivered exclusively in English

INTERNSHIP

Internship opportunities in France or abroad (semesters 2 and 4)

PRACTICAL WORK

One third of the training is constituted of practical work

SMALL COHORT

20 students on average

National Diploma of Master

ADMISSION:

- Degree of political sciences, law, economics, management
- Degree of mathematics, computer studies
- Degree of foreign language

Based on application and interview

Tarifs : consult the website (ices.fr)

Contact : master-geopolitics@ices.fr

PROFESSIONS AND BUSINESS SECTORS

- Public Affairs: Lobbying within law firms dedicated to influence.
- Compliance - banking sector
- Political risk analyst - insurance sector
- Business intelligence, OSINT (open source intelligence)
- Geopolitical risk consulting
- Analyst working for a Chief Geopolitical Officer

ICES, recognized for the excellence of its teaching, is located in a dynamic entrepreneurial region, conducive to work-study programs and the creation of professional networks. The ICES Business Center specifically supports master's students by providing them with essential resources for their professional integration.

Master's objectives

The Master's in Geopolitics pursues three objectives: It provides students with a basic geopolitical culture that gives them perspective and vision. It provides specialized teaching focused on the skills required by companies hiring executives in the fields of influence, compliance, or business intelligence. It connects students with professionals working in the field to ensure up-to-date experience transfer while expanding their network..

Personalised student support takes the form of:

- Personalized support
- Small class sizes
- Available teachers

Program

(Detailed programme available on ices.fr)

Practice of influence within the European Union, investigations into the dark web, geopolitics of the underground economy. The master's degree in geopolitics alternates between lectures and presentations by professionals in the first semester and an internship in a company in the second semester.

- + Languages (arab, chinese, russian)
- + TOEIC
- + Voltaire certificate

Skills targeted

- Risk anticipation
- Investigation
- Influence

CONFÉRENCE DES
GRANDES
ÉCOLES